Supervisor Ash Offers Resolution to County Board to Cut Six Feet off Sidewalks

BOARD MAKES REQUEST SPECIAL
ORDER FOR TUESDAY AFTERNOON

Board Rejects Resolution Appointing Deputy Clerk of Court at $600 a Year

SUPERIOR John Ash introduced a resolution at the county board meeting Tuesday night that the sidewalk around the courthouse be cut six feet off to provide more parking space for the cars of the judges and the public.

Mr. Ash explained to the board that the sidewalk around the courthouse is too narrow and that the cars of the judges and the public are parked on the street, which is a nuisance to the public. He asked the board to pass a resolution authorizing the cutting of the sidewalk six feet off.

FIGHT ON DEPUTY CLERK

The committee on salaries, Superior court judges, and the county board have been fighting for some time over the salary of the deputy clerk of the court. The board has offered a resolution asking for a salary of $600 a year, but the judges have refused to accept it.

Supervisor Ash said that the county board has offered a salary of $600 a year, but the judges have refused to accept it. He asked the board to pass a resolution authorizing the cutting of the sidewalk six feet off.

KLAN MASK BARRED
IN OKLAHOMA BILL
AFTER EXCORIATION

House and Senate Leaders Warn Legislature to Act on Measure

ANTI-KLAN FACTION HAS FOUND IT HARD SLEDDING

Bill Prohibiting Masking is First Concession

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla.—By The Associated Press.—The state senate Tuesday adopted a measure in the bill to regulate secret orders making it a misdemeanor to wear a mask. The action was greeted by proponents of Klan legislation as the greatest concession made thus far by the group opposing strict regulatory laws. The vote was 24 to 13.

Leaders Urge Action
Rebelling by their leaders for alleged insincerity in their consideration of anti-Klan Klan measures, members of both houses of the state legislature went into session Tuesday to renew discussion of the proposed legislation, with its opponents holding the whip-hand.

The controversy, now extended into the lower house, it became increasingly apparent that a prolonged and bitter fight is in prospect before final action is taken on any of the various proposals for an act regulating secret organizations in Oklahoma.

Klan Beats Clause
The senate was adjourned Monday by Senator Tom Anglin, president pro tem, to cease its obstructive tactics and come to a showdown after "killing a clause which would have provided that a court order could compel officers of secret organizations to produce their membership rolls. This action supporters of the proposal accepted as a definite defeat in their fight to reveal to the public the names of members of secret orders and thus put "teeth" in an anti-klan act.

Addressing the lower house, Speaker McBee declared that he was confident satisfactory Klan legislation would be enacted and added: "It must go through. The house promised the people of the state legislation of this kind and we have got to pass it, or I will break with every member of the legislature."

HOLIDAY OPENING
FRIDAY NIGHT TO BE GALA EVENT

Crowds Expected to Participate in Frolic in Down Town District

When the whistles blow and the bells ring Friday night, don't think there is a big fire or other calamity. It is the Christmas season being ushered in.

It is hardly expected, however, that there will be many people at home that night, for everyone will be down town to participate in the third annual Christmas frolic, which will take place at 8 o'clock sharp. Of course, most people will be down early, and the committee asks that there be no late arrivals.

And such displays! The inquiring reporter was given some advance information under a strict pledge of secrecy, and while he would like to tell about it, the story would be too fantastic—even for a newspaper man, so the public will have to wait.

Those who look at every window will be rewarded for their efforts by prizes that are being offered by prize merchant Bart, in order to participate in the awarding of the prizes, you must have a ticket. These tickets are being given away free in every store. Just ask for them. The tickets will also be given out Friday evening to those who have not secured them before.

The stores will be open from eight to nine, but no goods will be sold. The formal selling season will not open until Saturday morning. The salespeople will be in their places as a reception committee.

Parties are already being made up, and it is expected that all former records will be broken by the crowds that will pack the downtown streets Friday night. It will be impossible to make any other appointments, as everyone will be taking part in the Christmas frolic.

WINONA YOUTHS

THEFT OF BLANKET

Ervin Ehrke, 19, and Ralph Leininger, 18, of Winona, were arrested by Winona police Monday for the theft of a blanket from the automobile of H. W. Packman, 122 South Ninth street, Sunday night. Winona police are holding the blanket for return to Packman, and say the boys admit taking it.

RUM NAVY FREELY STUNG
WITH RAISED BILLS IN PAY FOR LIQUOR ALONG COAST

NEWARK, N. J.—A dozen persons recently have been arrested in Jersey coast towns, where rum running flourishes, for the alleged passing of raised bills, officials of the department of justice said today in commenting on dispatches from St. Paul, telling of the arrest there of three persons suspected of being involved in a national counterfeiting organization, allied with liquor smugglers. The Jersey cases have been turned over to treasury department agents for further investigation.

According to federal operatives, local bootleggers frequently pass raised bills to members of the rum fleet. These bills get into circulation when the runners enjoy shore leave. Recently fifteen $100 bills raised from $1.00 notes have been found in Pennsylvania towns, where some of the smuggled liquor goes.

PROGRESSIVES FIGHT TO OUST CUMMINS FOR BOB
AS COMMERCE CHAIRMAN

LA FOLLETTE-ITES HAVE BALANCE OF POWER IN HOUSE

Can Spill G. O. P. Beans Any Time by Uniting With Democrats

By DAVID LAWRENCE
(Copyright 1923.)

WASHINGTON.—One week before the opening of congress finds the national capital in a state of nervousness over the various situations that are developing and likely to develop.

First, there's a fight in the house over the leadership between Representative Graham of Illinois, and Representative Longworth of Ohio, with the "progressives" supporting Representative Cooper of Wisconsin.

Second, the departure of Vice-President Coolidge as president of the United States senate makes it necessary to choose a permanent president of the senate and Senator Cummins of Iowa who was president pro tem during the last session, whenever Coolidge was absent, is in line for the position.

But if he takes it, Mr. Cummins may be forced to relinquish the chairmanship of the committee on interstate commerce and under the seniority rule Robert M. La Follette, senior senator from Wisconsin, having served the longest in that committee, becomes entitled to the chairmanship. Out of the interstate commerce committee come bills relating to railroad and transportation matters.

Mr. La Follette would have a great deal of influence in shaping the government's railroad policy—or at least sufficient power to keep the railroad on the anxious seat with respect to that clause of the transportation act which permits them to make a five and a half per cent return on their investment.

Lodge Wants Both
Mr. Cummins wants to be president pro tem. Senator Henry Cabot Lodge favors him for the position and Mr. Cummins doesn't see any reason why he shouldn't have it. The committee chairmanship, too, that would be right if Mr. La Follette and his friends consented, but they want to run things in the interstate commerce committee and if they do not get what they want they can overthrow the whole republican organization scheme by simply uniting with the democrats.

The republican majority is slender and the support of the La Follette group is needed to carry on republican party legislative maneuvers throughout the session.

Senator La Follette is a sick man. He hasn't been very much in evidence during the last three weeks that he has been in Washington. Some of his close friends say he has an attack of the grippe. Others hint that his illness is more serious. Anyway it will probably become apparent whether he is in physical condition for the battle in the next congress when the senate convenes. Mr. La Follette is usually in his seat on such occasions.

More Pay for Cummins
The presidency of the senate carries with it an increase in salary of $4,500 above the regular salary of $7,500 received by senators, and friends of Senator Cummins think the "old man," as they affectionately call him, should have the added compensation, as he isn't a wealthy man and has spent most of his life in the public service not only in Washington but in his home state of Iowa, where he gave his energies to the governorship in legislative battles which are still the talk of the middle west.

While these situations are developing inside the republican party the democrats are girding their loins for a fight that may rival in interest their defeat in the middle of the last administration when in 1910 the democrats took advantage of the misdeeds of their opponents who were divided and managed to appear before congress.

SERVICE GIVEN
BY AUTO CLUBS
FAR REACHING

F. E. Ernst Tells Local Car Owners How it is Developing

HAVE TOWING AND SERVICE
STATIONS IN THIS STATE

Local Organization Now Has Over Seven Hundred Members

"The keynote has been service," said F. E. Ernst, secretary of the Illinois Automobile club and past assistant secretary of the National Automobile association, in accounting for the rapid growth of automobile clubs throughout the nation. Mr. Ernst was the principal speaker before the members of the Automobile Club of Western Wisconsin at a dinner held Monday evening at the Chamber of Commerce.

During the past year motorists have been getting together more than ever before. As a result they have been shown things they never knew before and other things which they knew but never before realized. "There has been a change during the past three, four or five years," according to Mr. Ernst, "and today the motor club is a business institution. The social side is one of the big reasons why automobile clubs have grown."

How They Grow
"Five years ago the biggest club in the country was putting itself on the back because it had 10,000 members. Today it has 90,000. Service accounts for the growth of this and other associations."

"There are two distinct classes of service. The first of these is the intangible service or that which we do not see or perhaps do not realize. Legislative action and safety are included under this head. The second, or tangible service, is the service which we see. This service includes such as road marking, some legal action, emergency first aid, and towing service. Of the two, the intangible service is the more important of the two. Tangible service can be bought, but intangible service is not for sale on the open market. The collective influence which brings about the intangible service is made possible by organization."

Motorists can be divided into three classes. At the top of the list is a small group of big men, business and professional men, who recognize the value of intangible service. Although they are the thinkers and big minds of all organizations, they make up only five or eight per cent of the big family of motorists.

"At the bottom of the list we find a big group, about 45 or 50 per cent, who are in the middle class. They are the men who buy second hand cars or pay $100 down and $10 a month, carry no insurance, and if you are ever in a wreck with a man of this type you will soon find he has nothing to square up with."

Cites Another Type
"Between the two groups is another large group, between 40 and 45 per cent, who are the 'let George do it' type. Only tangible service has an appeal to these men. All they care for is the personal benefits which they may derive from being a member of a motor club."

More and more, the motor club is becoming a civic asset to any community. Motor clubs can handle some civic problems much better than any other civic organizations. Reputations are being made or unmade by motor clubs or the lack of them.

"Four times as many people travel by car as by rail and the automobile clubs act as reception committees for tourists. The first thing a tourist does upon entering a town of any size is to find the automobile club and look for information regarding the local regulations and any number of other things. The automobile club is also the last place a tourist goes before leaving a city. He may ask what road to take, the condition of roads, and other questions, and the impression he receives there is sometimes the one he always remembers. Minneapolis (Continued on page six)

PERRY WARNS STATE
HOLIDAY LIQUOR IS
"DEADLY POISON"

MILWAUKEE, Wis.—Clark M. Perry, federal prohibition commissioner of Wisconsin, following the report of two alcohol deaths reported Monday by the coroner's office here, in a formal statement warns the people of this state against holiday liquor.

"So-called Christmas booze that is being peddled in the state is nothing less than deadly poison, and death or blindness lurks in every drink of holiday liquor," declared Mr. Perry. "I base my statement upon the actual facts."

"During the last six weeks we examined 81 samples of holiday booze seized in various parts of the state. In every case it was found that the liquor consisted of denatured alcohol which had been redistilled."

GAMBLING DEVICES
BURNED BY SHERIFF
AT THE COURTHOUSE

Hundreds of Dollars Worth of Paraphernalia, Seized in Raids, Destroyed

Hundreds of dollars worth of slot machines and gambling paraphernalia went up in smoke up the courthouse chimney Tuesday afternoon when Sheriff R. J. Lund ordered the destruction of gambling devices that he had been confiscated in raids in the past year or more and which had been held in the courthouse.

Slot machines seized in stores about the city and at roadhouses in the county and chips seized early last year in a raid on Dan Cary's room were taken to the furnace fire in the courthouse basement by John Fitz and Otto Betz, courthouse custodians, in the presence of Sheriff Lund, Under Sheriff Miller, Captain of Police Dugan, County Superintendent of Schools Blanche Chamberlain, Assessor of Income Keizer, Poor Commissioner Burdick and County Treasurer Lund.

The only thing not burned was a music box in the bottom of a slot machine that played "Swanee River" and "Hot Time in the Old Town" every time a chap lost a nickel.

This appointment came Monday night after conferences here throughout the day. Senator Johnson chose a recognized leader in republican affairs to direct his political destinies, since Mr. Hitchcock has had years of experience with presidential campaigns.

Senator Johnson makes his initial address since announcing his candidacy for the republican nomination Tuesday, when he speaks to the Cocon county real estate board.

BLAME MINE BLAST TO DEAD MAN WHO
EXPLODED THE GAS

Marvel that 900 Men at Work in Pit Were Able to Escape Without Deaths

WEST FRANKFORT, Ill.—The explosion at Mine No. 1, of the Chicago, Wilmington and Franklin company Monday probably was caused by Harry Odle, one of the two men killed, who had attempted to recover a set of tools he several days ago left in a worked out room of the colliery, according to officials of the company.

Odle, the officials said, was climbing over a pile of debris and his torch probably ignited gas that had accumulated in the top of the room.

Nine men are still in the hospital, three having gone home. Physicians said all probably would recover.

The fact that approximately 900 escaped without a scratch is the chief topic of conversation. All agreed it was the room or "panel" system at the colliery that allowed so many men to get to the surface unharmed.

SHOOT DOWN MAN
AFTER HOLD-UP

LOS ANGELES, Cal.—Charles A. Chapman, 25, an insurance salesman, was shot and killed early Tuesday morning by a trio of automobile bandits after they had stopped his car and forced him and a woman companion out of the machine. The woman offered no resistance. The Chapman said, but was shot down after he had been searched for valuables. He died an hour later. Three men are being held.

ALBERT FAILS TO FORM NEW BERLIN RULE

Ebert Proposes Coalition of Five Bourgeois Parties in Effort to Set Up Cabinet

PRESIDENT HESITATES TO DISSOLVE THE REICHSTAG

Communist Leaders Arrested to Head off Rumored Riots

BERLIN.—By The Associated Press.—Dr. Heinrich F. Albert, who at President Ebert's request has been endeavoring to form a ministry, abandoned the effort today because of his inability to find sufficient reichstag support for a cabinet under his chancellorship.

President Ebert thereupon began negotiating with the leaders of the bourgeois parties for the formation of a five party bloc, uninclusive of the socialists.

Up to this afternoon none of the parties had proposed a candidate for the chancellorship.

Looked on as Intruder
The political turmoil amid which Dr. Stresemann stepped from the chancellery proved a burdensome legacy to Dr. Albert. At every hand Dr. Albert's attempts to organize a non-political government were thwarted by the party leaders, who looked upon him as an intruder.

Although dissolution of the reichstag is generally regarded as the only means of relieving the situation, President Ebert is hesitating to take the step.

Alternative Project
An alternative suggestion which apparently was relegated to the rear for the time being at least, in favor of the five party attempt, was an effort to form a bourgeois cabinet composed of representatives of the German nationalist, socialist and German people's parties. Such a cabinet would have to reckon with the opposition of the socialists and the communists and at most with the neutrality of the democrats, while the center party made its collaboration subject to two conditions, first that the government must be along constitutional lines, and second, that the treaty of Versailles must be regarded as binding.

Lock of agreement among the parties on these conditions has seemed to be the sticking point.

A candidate for the post of chancellor in such a bourgeois cabinet was Dr. Jarres, minister of the interior in the Stresemann cabinet.

Arrest Reds
BERLIN.—Several prominent Berlin communists were arrested Tuesday as a precaution following circulation of a report which came to the hands of authorities that Moscow had called on the Berlin communists to undertake "bloody provocations" this evening.

VENAL HUSBANDS AND FOREIGN WOMEN GAIN ACCESS TO ENGLAND

Men Who Marry for Money to Allow Women to Enter Furnish New Problem

LONDON.—The many mercenary "bridegrooms" who are willing to marry alien women for a financial consideration in order to allow them to enter the country, is providing the Home Office with a difficult problem. Marriage to Britons makes these women British citizens, which is the goal at which they aim. The arrangement is generally that the bridegroom lends his name for the ceremony, receiving from $50.00 to $75.00 for his trouble. The couple part at the registry doors, and the wife is thereafter free to travel any place in Great Britain or the dominions without further question.

The Home Office has been able to intervene in many cases, however, where the bridegrooms have overstepped their legal allowance and married in some instances as many as ten women. In these cases the women have been deported and the man sent to prison for blemish.

The problem of the nationality of the wife was discussed several times during the last session of Parliament and will come before the Dominion's conference now meeting in London. Here it is expected a final decision will be made as to whether the wife remains her nationality, or takes that of her husband. If the former, the British government will take steps to have a bill passed allowing married women to adopt English nationality at once, but prohibiting others from assuming it without going through the usual legal course.

During the year 1921, there were approximately 500 of these "venue-bait" marriages.

WARNS AGAINST THE PRACTISE OF MONKEY GLAND OPERATIONS

Transposing Glands May Carry Man Back Into Monkey Stage Says South American

BUENOS AIRES.—By The Associated Press.—The practice of monkey gland operations, should it be extended and carried down the generations, may change man back into the monkey from which he evolved, warns Professor Clement Onelli, director of the Buenos Aires Zoological Garden, in an article published in the Bulletin of the Sarmiento Society for the Protection of Animals. Moreover, removing these glands from monkeys is cruelty to animals.

Professor Onelli appeals to the local society to call an international congress of organizations for the protection of animals not only to take steps to stop "this new form of scientific cruelty," but "to avoid the alteration of the natural laws of human society with its consequent danger to modern civilization."

"In the desire to postpone as long as possible the decrepitude of age," Professor Onelli writes, "the time may come when the substitution of the secretions of such inferior animals as monkeys will become more widely practiced, and so many monkey-men produced that, after a few generations, the characteristics of the human species would show variations. The forehead might become flattened, and should the scientists succeed in combining the secretions of the orang-outang with the chimpanzee, for substitution in man, a genius of satire might result."

IZZY THE MOP IS ON WEST COAST

LOS ANGELES, Cal.—Isadore Einstein, better known as "Izzy," the "mop-top" of Hollywood, who lives in New York and other cities, whose success as a comedian is due to his down-fall of many bootleggers in Los Angeles, for a rest only, he said, pressed for his professional opinion on the prohibition outlook here. His only comment was "it will be very easy to give them a dry cleaning."

A horse-drawn straw heater for women has made its appearance in London and Paris and has found much favor because of the instant surface made by the stone wearing of the material. The straw is made in all colors and is said to be unbreakable.

EQUITY TOPIC TO BE REDUCTION OF SOCIETY'S DEBTS

WAUSAU, Wis.—Reduction of the indebtedness of Wisconsin State United American Society of Equity will furnish one of the principal items of discussion at the annual meeting of the society, here, Dec. 5, according to George A. Another important subject to come before the convention is the question of incorporation, long a mooted point in society affairs.

Judge Mahoney of Viroqua has been selected as the principal speaker, according to Mr. Nelson. His subject has not yet been announced. Another prominent speaker will be Edward

Sure Way to Remove Pimples

The Action of Stuart's Calcium Water Is Due to the Skin Where They Work to Clear It and Remove Facial Blemishes

Lots of girls are fashionably slim and are pretty, all except a skin, rashed with pimples. No face cream can do a bit of good. What they need and what the skin absolutely must have is the retarding influence of calcium which you get from Stuart's Calcium Water. Their first action is to rid the system of acid and the acids of waste products that keep the blood and are apt to be absorbed into the tissues to find their way to the skin. Then the Calcium itself is one of the essential elements that the system naturally absorbs and utilizes, particularly in keeping the skin in health. Thus there are decided benefits to be had from these wonder-waters, for no matter how deeply the skin, a box or two, cannot fail to develop the roots of the skin.

Get a cent box of Stuart's Calcium Water of any druggist and then you may come on a complexion worth having. Write to F. A. Stuart Co., 659 Stuart Bldg., for a free sample package.

DISPATCHES on Tuesday reported that the German government has ceased sending relief into the occupied sections of the Ruhr. This throws a great burden upon the French control, unless they find means to restore production and get the hundreds of thousands of idle workers in the district back to work. Probably the French accomplished something in this respect when they signed up the recent agreement with Stinnes and his colleagues, whereby coal mining is to be resumed under French taxation, and with a percentage of the coal mined directly for French use, at the cost of the mine-owners. But coal, while the basic industry of the Ruhr, is far from its only occupation. Probably the miners, all told, number less than twenty per cent of the Ruhr working population that has been idle almost from the time the French and Belgians moved in. Railroad and iron workers are other great classes affected by the unemployment, to say nothing of the host of smaller industrial operations dependent upon coal, coke and metal basic production. And all of these people with their families must be fed, if there is to be any chance of French success in her collection policy. Disorders, costly in money and very likely leading to bloodshed, will result otherwise.

Gradually the proof of the prediction that occupation would not collect reparations is working out. The agreement with Stinnes and company is about the first major step forward toward tangible gain in the Ruhr that the French have made since they cleaned up the stocks of coal and coke that were on hand when they marched into the valley. Admittedly the agreement is regarded as a poor bargain for France, in which the Ruhr industrialists have much the better of it. It is extremely doubtful if the coal that France gets under the compact, and the taxation accepted on the rest of the coal mined, will cover the current costs of the occupation, to say nothing of the millions spent in the months before, when receipts from the Ruhr were practically nothing.

Add to this deficit the cost of feeding the Ruhr population, and it is hard to see where France is coming out on the financial side. Of course she may undertake to expel the unemployed from the Ruhr, but that would not only bring down upon her head world indignation such as execrated the Germans for similar conduct with French and Belgian populations during the war, but would also serve to ruin the productive capacity of the occupied regions. The Ruhr mines and factories are useless without men to run them.

French elections are due next spring. Will Poincare be able to keep up until then the fiction that the collection of reparations is approaching success, or will the failure of his policy be patent before that time in the collapse of the franc and general disintegration in Germany? So far, it must be admitted, there are few signs that Poincare is losing his grip on the French electorate.

Strange Hobby

THE world's greatest collection of fleas is presented to the British Museum, whose officials register exquisite delight. These fleas were collected by the late Nathaniel Rothschild, head of the famous London banking family. Rothschild took great pride in his fleas. He ransacked the world for them. Expense was no object. He even sent a costly expedition into the far north to get a specimen of the flea that annoys a certain kind of Arctic seal. Strange things happen in world vaudeville, but rarely anything stranger than this hobby of the rich banker.

Up speaks Arthur F. Samme, Englishman, calling attention to his own peculiar collection—match boxes. He has 476 different specimens, and he boasts that it took fourteen years to acquire them. Samme claims, with dignity and confidence, that he is the world's greatest authority on match boxes. No doubt. In two ways, it's a striking hobby.

Man's instinct for accumulation is, in its simpler form, the quality or virtue known as thrift. Carried to extremes, to its logical conclusion, it is responsible for some people being too rich at the expense of others who remain too poor. Many a millionaire will smile at Mr. Samme collecting match boxes or Mr. Rothschild collecting rare fleas. But the match boxes and fleas have benefited their owners about as much as excessive possession of dollars benefits the extremely rich.

Old-Timers

ALL is not gloom. That ancient institution, a free lunch, is returning here and there in New York City. A reporter partakes in five "soft drink parlors." Refreshments include such familiar old-timers as bologna, rye bread, cheese, herrings and cloves. We could tell more, but refrain in the cause of efficiency. If some of our readers start reminiscing about free lunch the rest of the day will be ruined as far as work is concerned.

PHYLLIS BOTTOME, English author, decides that the chief business of American girls is to catch the men. This alarms Phyllis, but needn't. American girls have no monopoly at "catching men." And it's what nature intended them to do. It's futile to revolt at biology. Whether girls catch the men or men catch the girls, has never been satisfactorily decided. Usually it's 50-50.

A Question Answered

By A. W. PEACH

Stetson opened the door and stared with surprise at the small person he saw there. Her oval, girlish face, down which the rain trickled, was lifted anxiously to his. Under the reflection of the hall light her dark eyes seemed weary with the deeper darkness of fear mingled with hope.

"Does Mr. George Hanley live here?" her sweet, tired voice asked.

"Why—er—no," he answered, "but come in out of this night rain."

She stepped inside and his first thought was that she looked like some flower drooping in the rain. She explained hesitatingly that she was looking for a friend that she had gone to the address he had given her, but had not found him; that she remembered seeing one of the letters he had written this address, and in hope of finding him she had come here.

"But there is no one of that name here. This is Mrs. Wilson's boarding house," he went on as he saw her eyes widen and waver. "But I can help you, perhaps, if you will describe him."

"I met him last summer in the village where I live. He is tall, has blue eyes and curly hair, and is quite—quite handsome."

"Stetson started at her; then as suddenly he asked her to sit down for a moment. He hurried to Mrs. Wilson's room."

"Mother," such was her name among her little boarding family, "there is a little girl downstairs. Won't you go down and see what you can do for her?"

Mrs. Wilson, with quick interest, left him, and he went up another flight, knocked on a door and stepped in. A girl with blue eyes and curly hair, like the one he had described, was sitting on the bed, looking up at him.

"There's a girl downstairs hunting for a young man she described as you look. She has come from some upstate village. Know anything about her?"

The girl's face changed, and Stetson went on: "Your name as I know it is John Hanley; she says she wants George Hanley."

Stetson sighed. "I'm guilty as the devil, Don. I was out on a lark with some pals, met her at a village dance, flirted with her. She heard the fellows call me Hanley, but I told her my name was John. Went to see her a number of times, and she fell in love. I don't know where she is now, but I don't think she'd get serious. Gave her a fake address, thought she'd write, not get a reply and give up. How'd she find me?"

Stetson told him and he sighed again. "Why does a girl have to be so serious?"

Stetson's voice was cold. "It's a lucky thing for some of us that some girls are serious about such things. Well, she's downstairs. Come down and patch it up—now. I'm glad I haven't your difficult job."

Downstairs he found Mother Wilson had prepared a warm lunch and made the dark-eyed girl change her wet garments.

"There's some mistake, but you came to the right place. He will be down," said Stetson, smiling into the questioning eyes.

The little group chatted together and Stetson discovered that her name was Ruth Hargrove, and that her smile revealed even white teeth that made her still prettier. He came to the conclusion that it ought not to be a difficult stunt to fall in love with her.

But George Hanley did not come down, and Stetson finally went up, to be told by a maid that she saw him go out the back way. "The beastly coward!" Stetson thought in anger. "He's a good fellow in some ways, but his moral sense is minus!"

On his way down he planned the next move, which was evident when he explained to the wondering girl that he had been mistaken—her friend was not in his room.

George did not appear the next morning, and Stetson was at a loss what to do. He ended by spending the day with the girl in a trip about the city. When he returned life had changed for him, he admitted a bit grimly. Her dark head at his shoulder, the quick, shy uplift of her eyes when amused at his comment, her grace, sweet voice and more than all the clear transparency of her character—all these, and more, appealed to him as no other girl ever appealed.

George had not appeared at evening and Stetson, somewhat against his desires, went in search of him. Tracing him through his cronies, he found him at last and convinced him that there was one thing for him to do—to return and straighten things out.

George returned with him. Stetson did not wait to see the outcome but when George went to his room some time afterward Stetson followed him.

"Fix it up? Sure!" George replied to his question. "Say, but she is a pretty thing, isn't she? I'm going to take her out tomorrow for a good time. Nothing like having a way with the girls, deacon."

Late on the evening of the next day Stetson met her on the stairs, wining and appealing in a white dress, after her evening with George.

He nodded and started to go by. She caught his arm, and her voice was pleading as she spoke. "Please don't look at me that way, I know how you feel after—after his deception; but you have been so good to me. Don't think ill of me!"

"George seems to think—" "He thinks that he is to me what he thought he was at home. He isn't

He flirted with me then; I've been flirting with him today, and I'm ashamed of myself; but I did want to give him a dose of his own medicine. I really am not as simple as I look!"

Stetson laughed. "Little girl, I don't blame you a bit. I'm glad to see your spunk. I only wish from the bottom of my heart that you would stay a little longer, so that I—"

"I—might, if you want me to," she answered, fearfully.

He caught both of her small hands in his. "It's a bargain, then!" he said with vehemence; and as she raised her dark eyes, luminous now with a soft light, he longed to draw her to him, but decided that that and other things could wait. (Copyright, 1923, by McClure Newspaper Syndicate).

OSHKOSH, Wis. — At the closing session of the Winnebago county board for November, the total tax budget for the county for 1924 was cut from last year and fixed at $510,776.40. Under a new system of bookkeeping used by the county this amount does not include a direct tax for schools of $69,080.34, besides $43,000 left over from last year's taxes to reduce this year's quota, so that the total reduction this year over last year is actually $73,000. The Great- est Force

The greatest force in the world is the will to serve.

When it is born of enthusiasm it is dynamic it its intensity.

When it emanates from a sense of duty it endures.

It is the will to serve that puts imagination into business.

It is the will to serve, persisted in over a long period of years, that has made the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) one of America's outstanding successes.

It is this same will to serve that has encouraged this Company to foster industrial husbandry not alone in its own business but elsewhere.

If the management of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) had been content to take from crude petroleum, gasoline, kerosene and lubricating oils only, this Company would have been a large manufacturing concern, but it never could have achieved its present position as an institution in the industrial world.

Without disturbing those three essential major products, this Company set about utilizing waste. It retrieved products of great benefit to the medical profession — products that lighten the burden of the housewife — products that make night travel safe — products that make good roads — and products that serve mankind in a score of ways.

All these products were developed by the will to serve.

The personnel of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) is obsessed with the will to serve and led by men with imagination — imagination reduced to terms of practical business.

It is the will to serve that inspired the Manufacturing Department of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) to develop methods for increasing the yield of gasoline from a given quantity of crude petroleum.

It is the will to serve that caused the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) to lease to competitive concerns the right to use such important manufacturing processes.

It is the will to serve that caused the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) to create and maintain facilities so comprehensive as to serve a five-gallon customer as carefully, as accurately, and as promptly as it serves a thousand-gallon buyer.

It is the will to serve, expressed in terms of action, that has earned for the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) the confidence, respect and esteem of the thirty million people of the Middle West.

WOMAN SHOTS BOY; THOUGHT HE WAS ATTACKING HER

Cedar Rapids Chiropractor Believed Law Was Using Suffocating Gas

CEDAR RAPIDS, Iowa.—Sadie Morton, 60, chiropractor, has confessed to shooting Monday, that she shot and wounded 14-year-old Elmer, a neighbor boy, Sunday night, the belief that he was using suffocating gas to attack her. Her sister and her father, with a suffocating powder gas.

The boy is in a serious condition from a bullet wound in his right lung. Sadie Morton and her sister Alice, also a chiropractor, have maintained a watch over their home night after night, hoping to catch the alleged assassin.

Sunday night they thought they smelled gas again, and with windows closed and two electric fans going to counteract the effects of the alleged gas, they took up their arms and shot. Alice sat in a room with a loaded shotgun and Sadie in a middle room with a revolver, say police, who investigated the shooting. When the 14-year-old boy ran into the narrow yard between the two houses the shot in the front room called to the other, and the latter not recognizing the boy, fired.

Questioned at the station, the Morton's explained the boy, saying he had never been under their suspicion. No charges have been filed against the woman yet.

UNDER THE CAPITOL DOME

Odds and Ends of State Affairs by William J. Anderson

MADISON, Wis.—The tax problem is nearly always the paramount question before the people of this state. It is primarily fiscal rather than moral in its character, yet when for some purpose office seekers and other orators undertake to misrepresent the situation, the tax question then comes to be a moral question, because of the wrong done in misinformation of the public. Just now throughout the state the tax question is being discussed even more ardently than prohibition, because of the steady increase in the levy. It is desirable, therefore, that people interested in the subject get a clear understanding of the chief facts of the tax situation in this state. It should be clearly understood to begin with that:

(1) Taxes are almost certain to increase from year to year. If we must have progress along all lines of human activity, we must pay for it. We cannot improve our school system, build better school houses, have better highways or multiply our public parks and play grounds without digging into our pockets. The Beneficent Ruler of the Universe isn't doing these things for us, because we can do them ourselves.

(2) As society grows more complex as civilization advances, the demand for more rules or laws to govern our conduct; and also in many situations to direct our activities, is imperative. When a law is passed, then creating a tax commission, a railroad commission or an industrial commission, it is essential that the work of administering the law be placed in the hands of a man or a body of men, specially fitted for the duty, and giving the work all their time and energy. Thus comes about the creation of commissions, and bureaus, about which we hear much. The criticism aimed at these is often misdirected. It touches the methods of the members of the commission in administering the law rather than the fact of the existence of the commission.

(3) The real problem of taxation, which every right-minded citizen should interest himself in, is whether the money he and his fellow citizens pay for public purposes is intelligently and honestly expended. This is at all times the crux of the tax question. The tax-paying public should not be fooled this or any other year by the specious clamor of administrative officials that taxes are being reduced. They are not being reduced this year, anyway, that is the taxes we paid and are paying this year. Owing to the lapsing of the highway tax last year, the total of all public collections shows a little decrease this year, but generally the department expenses are higher. Thus the total collected in 1922 was $123,517,320. The total collected this year was $121,380,423.

The attorney general this week ruled, in reply to a request of the dairy and food commission, that in selling cold storage eggs a dealer must indicate on the carton or package that they are storage goods. A carton labeled, which is being used by a Milwaukee dealer, was submitted, and the attorney general held that only by close reading of the label would the fact that the contents were storage eggs be revealed. This, it was held, was in violation of the law, which prohibited any branding or labeling which would mislead the purchaser in any way.

The state board of health, answering an inquiry this week, ruled that in a city where garbage was collected under a contract, the authorities could prohibit an independent garbage collector from carrying on his work. Reference was made to a Michigan case, where the court held that garbage itself was a nuisance, and, under the police power of the municipality, its disposal could be controlled.

Teeth Stains Removed —for Few Cents!

No More Yellow Teeth—New Liquid Whitens Teeth Instantly

A NEW harmless liquid which—in just three minutes—gives dull, yellowish teeth a beautiful, pearly whiteness has been discovered. It is almost magical, you just brush your teeth with a few drops—and no matter how black or discolored they have been—stains are instantly bleached out and the teeth take on a charming new lustre, a marvelous snowy whiteness.

Tobacco stains completely disappear after a few applications. BLEACHODENT is a new scientific product perfected by dental specialists who knew that there must be a better, safer, and less expensive way to clean teeth than the old way of having them scoured with harmful abrasives. BLEACHODENT is especially recommended for children's teeth, as the child's teeth are in a soft, formative period during which gritty pastes or powders should be avoided, and only an absolutely safe, cleaner like BLEACHODENT, which bleaches out stains but has absolutely no effect on the enamel, should be used.

Get BLEACHODENT today. Only a few cents for a full sized bottle. Bring it back if not delighted. Sold by all druggists such as Hoeschler Bros., L. Lien, Wm. Doeringer Co., J. H. Spolander, Hebbard Drug Store, Boerner Drug Store, Euler Drug Store.

DRIVE ON TO KEEP AMERICAN EAGLE FROM EXTINCTION

Nature Association Fights Law Permitting Unrestricted Killing in Alaska

WASHINGTON.—Unrestricted killing of American eagles in Alaska has stirred up a hornet's nest among naturalists and wild life enthusiasts. The American Nature Association has taken up the cause against the law and, as the first move in a campaign for its repeal and for the protection of the rapidly vanishing American eagle, has issued an appeal to every school teacher in the United States to file a protest on behalf of his class.

The law, it is said, was passed on the ground that eagles live on salmon and thereby damage that industry, one of the most important in Alaska. But the Nature Association points out in reply that a salmon dies after spawning and the eagle eats the fish after they have died and after they have perished their kind.

One of the best places to see the American eagle is on your journey and that will be the only place you can see it if the slaughter of this bird is kept up," says the American Nature Association's call. "No longer do the tourists to Alaska see these emblems of American liberty float above the forests and shoreline."

The law provides that when an eagle is killed, the hunter may get 20 cents by cutting both feet from the bird and exhibiting them to any commissioner of Alaska with an affidavit.

From 1917 to 1923, 30,000 eagles were shot, but from 1924 to 1926, 18,000 birds have been checked and accounted for on the bounty records. Game laws have been enforced, but the eagles have been shot in the interior to lay low the living emblem of our national independence. Some eagles have been wounded and have not been caught. Many have fallen into inaccessible places where they could not be reached. A large number have been shot for sport by people who have not collected the bounties.

It seems safe to say that instead of 18,000, approximately 25,000 American eagles have been killed since the campaign began.

In Alaska where fish are abundant at certain seasons of the year, the eagle undoubtedly lives largely on salmon, but it is a well known fact in the life history of the eagle that it does not survive. The tracks of streams are at times lined with the bodies of perished fish which are carried away and eaten by these birds.

With this recorded slaughter of 18,000 eagles, Alaskans may be sure there are not enough left to offer their people of fish and game. The year on eagles should be discontinued before the last emblem of the American people is laid low.

The eagle is a match for any animal of his size. He stands firm before every earthly power except the hand of man. On June 20, 1792, the venerable white-headed bird of Washington, beloved by Americans, was adopted as the emblem of our country. Are the American people to be represented by a different species?

Small Flag Pays Rent

After the Battle of Waterloo, the great Duke of Wellington was granted the estate of Stratfieldsay as a national offering, but the estate was never actually given to him. He had to pay "rent" for it as a sort of acknowledgment. The rent of Stratfieldsay was, and still is, a small flag and it is only "paid" each year on the Waterloo anniversary. The flag is placed over the Iron Duke's bust in the Guard Room of Windsor Castle, where it hangs till replaced by the following year's "rent."

HARDING GIRLS CLUB SENDS TURKEY TO PRESIDENT'S WIDOW

CHICAGO.—The Harding Girls club, which for three years sent the late President Harding a Thanksgiving turkey, Monday sent their annual bird to Mrs. Harding at Marion, Ohio.

In 1920, the Harding Girls club of Wilson and company sent a turkey by train and boat to the president-elect at Colon, Panama; in 1921, the food went to Washington in a United States mail plane, and last year the gift went all the way by automobile truck.

This year they did not forget the president's widow and sent their gift in a Pullman compartment.

"LET'S GET WAUKESHA'S TURKEY", SLOGAN AT HIGH SCHOOL

ELABORATE PLANS BEING MADE FOR FOOTBALL CLASSIC

Pep Meeting Scheduled for Wednesday Night in the High School Auditorium

MANAGER SCOTT TO SPRING SURPRISE AT PEP MEETING

Team Going Like House Afire in Practice

"Let's get Waukesha's Turkey!"

With Waukesha coming to La Crosse with one of the strongest teams in the state and a list of victories that include some of the best high school eleven in Wisconsin, the Red and Black will have a real battle on their hands when the two teams meet on Thanksgiving afternoon. Elaborate plans are being made in preparation for the event. A huge pep meeting is being organized for Wednesday evening and a banquet will be staged on Thursday night.

Pep Meeting Wednesday

The pep meeting Wednesday night will be one of the biggest things of the kind ever attempted at the high school. "Coach" Marshall and some other person to be selected will give the pep talks of the evening. The pep talks will be on the platform, and both the coaches will probably give short addresses. There will be a feature stunt put on by H. Risner and D. Peterson, a talk by one representative chosen from the student body of each. Two members of the faculty will speak and some of the school, which are to be given special seats on the platform, will probably give a show talk. Then there will be a musical program staged by "Kendall" and his troupe of singing students, which is by the way, a classy outfit.

Surprise Planned

The feature of the evening is Mr. Scott's surprise. No one in the school is talking of what it is to be as yet and much interest is being displayed as to what it will be.

As a climax to the successful season closed by Coach Finley's gridiron team, a big banquet will be held Thursday night for both teams. Some good toasts are promised for the occasion and it promises to be a real high school banquet.

The football squad has been working with a spirit that almost assures a victory in the Turkey day classic. There is a drive in the line that spells disaster for the Waukesha eleven and the headless is showing remarkable speed. With Welton to engineer the squad, Skaff and Baum at half and Redler at full again, Waukesha had better beware of Coach Finley's revamped backfield.

RIVAL CLAIMS FOR EASTERN GRIDIRON TITLE ESTABLISHED IN THANKSGIVING DAY GAMES

NEW YORK.—Rival claims for the Eastern football title will be established or eliminated in two of the several important college games on Thanksgiving day.

The one involves Cornell, high scoring team of the east and undefeated to date, which is to face a sturdy Pennsylvania eleven on the holiday and the other involves West Virginia, undefeated though tied, this season, which is to face its annual Thanksgiving day foe, the powerful Washington and Jefferson combination. If both Cornell and West Virginia triumph they jointly will share seasonal honors with Yale.

Last year, Cornell, with a similar record, came up to the Pennsylvania game a heavy favorite and although the Ithacans won, it was by a narrow margin. Penn showed to distinct advantage throughout much of the play and there is a belief among Penn rooters that this season's team is stronger than that of 1922.

Washington and Jefferson is believed to enjoy an equal chance for victory with West Virginia. Until its last game Washington and Jefferson had not tasted defeat, and although Pittsburgh triumphed 13 to 0, in the latter engagement, the presidents believe they can wreck the mountaineer record.

Other games of wide interest and involving closely matched foes also appear on the Thanksgiving day card. Dartmouth's meeting with Percy Broughton's Columbia eleven at the Polo grounds; the annual Penn State-Pittsburgh clash at Pittsburgh; the Brown-Lehigh game at Providence; and the Vermont-Marquette contest at Milwaukee are the other battles in which Eastern interest will center.

BIG 10 BASKETBALL OCCUPIES ATTENTION OF SPORT FOLLOWERS

Wisconsin, Iowa and Chicago Loom as Strongest in Conference

NEW YORK.—The developments on Western conference basketball floors now have the attention of Big Ten sport followers that until last Saturday was directed toward gridirons.

In most of the conference schools the basketball-tossers have been training unnoticed for weeks, while football was engrossing the interest of the public. Now their numbers are to be augmented by many football stars as practice gets under way in earnest for the first games, scheduled for the Christmas holidays.

Early reports tend to show that there will be a number of strong teams in the conference with Wisconsin, Iowa and Chicago having advantageous conditions. The Badgers and Hawkeyes tied for first place in the Big Ten basket ball race last year and are again to be strong contenders.

Chicago with four regulars of its 1922 season again eligible for competition will have a strong team, as will Michigan and Iowa, according to early reports.

Football men who have just completed two months of training are expected to take a short respite before they take up their basketball activities.

WISCONSIN MAY MEET NOTRE DAME IN 1924 SEASON

Scheduling of Encounter Hinges on Arrangement of a Date

MADISON, Wis.—Wisconsin university and Notre Dame football teams will meet in 1924, if final arrangements as to date for the game can be arranged, T. E. Jones, director of athletics at Wisconsin, announced Tuesday. Coach Jones stated that he has conferred with Coach Knute Rockne of Notre Dame and that prospects are favorable for matching the two teams.

Director Jones also announced that the eight-game schedule will be adopted by Wisconsin next season. The Badgers will probably drop Indiana from their schedule and add Northwestern, Coach Jones said.

Coe college and Michigan Aggies will be retained for Badger preliminary games next season. It was stated, Chicago, Illinois, Michigan and Minnesota are conference rivals which the Badgers will have in 1924. Coach

Rockne won the Lonsdale belt and the bantamweight championship of Europe by defeating "Buzlar" Lake on points in a 20 round contest.

BLOOMINGTON, Ill.—Pat Harkins, veteran Bloomington catcher, was named manager of the 1924 Bloomington catcher, Three-Eye league baseball team.

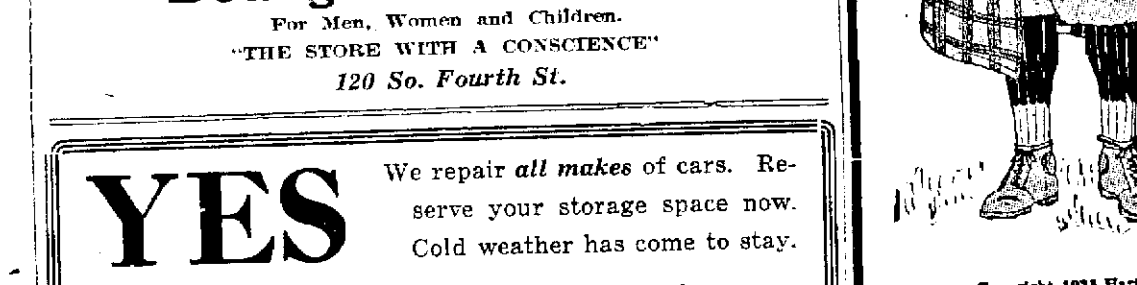

BOSTON.—Young Strikling, light-heavyweight of Maroon, Cal., was awarded the decision over Joe Egan of Dorchester after a dull ten round hour.

ST. LOUIS.—Joe Lynch of New York, bantamweight champion, was matched to box Eddie Kolonn of New Orleans, southern bantamweight, a 12-round no decision bout next Monday night at Newark.

CLOSING OF DEER SEASON FOR FIVE YEARS IS NEEDED

Only Eighty Deer Pass Through Birchwood from the Northern Forests

BIRCHWOOD, Wis.—That a closed deer season for about five years with alternate seasons thereafter is needed is emphasized by the fact that but eighty deer have passed through Birchwood this season from the forests north of here. In one season eight or nine years ago approximately 2,000 deer were brought through Birchwood. Some protection should be given the deer, old hunters declare. Many advocate a closed season for five years, alternate seasons to follow the closed period, and but five days to hunt each year.

Hundreds of well-known hunters who have been successful during past seasons have returned to their homes and report that deer are seldom seen in the woods now.

Wolverines' New Captain Never Lost on Grid

CHICAGO, Ill.—Herbert F. Steger, captain-elect of the Michigan football team, has never played in a losing game of football.

During the four years that he played halfback and fullback on the championship Oak Park high school here, the school was undefeated. Michigan has had an unsullied record for the two years he has been its halfback.

The first time the new captain was put in a varsity game his signal was called and he ran sixty yards for a touchdown.

With Steger as pilot and thirteen "M" men back next year, the Yost-men are already anticipating a successful 1924 season.

FOURNIER IS DEFENDANT IN $50,000 SUIT

ST. LOUIS, Mo.—Jacques Fournier, star first baseman of the Brooklyn Nationals, Monday was named defendant in a $50,000 damage suit here. RUSS-ROUMANIAN RELATIONS BETTER CLAIM OBSERVERS

Soviet Recognition of Roumania's Right to Bessarabia Believed Imminent

BUCHAREST.—By the Associated Press.—Despite the reports frequently heard in Bucharest of an impending invasion of Red hordes across the Dniester and down through the Bessarabian plains, competent observers—both Roumanian and foreign—who have recently had opportunities to study conditions along the frontier seem to be agreed that relations between Soviet Russia and Roumania are now better than they have been at any time during the past four years.

In Bucharest at least, it is confidently believed that Russia's formal recognition of Roumania's right to the province of Bessarabia is imminent. At the same time, however, Roumania is not taking any chances by reducing her military strength, and, while definite information on this point is impossible to obtain, it is generally believed that there are not far from 100,000 Roumanian soldiers in Bessarabia, most of them being scattered along the more than 200 miles of frontier formed by the river Dniester.

While they are there primarily to stop possible Soviet raids into the rich granaries of Bessarabia, their main job at present is to keep back the swarms of refugees who try, often successfully to cross the Dniester into Roumania, many of them with the hope ultimately of getting to the United States.

The trade agreement between the two countries which has been under negotiation for several months, and towards which the commercial classes of Roumania have been looking forward with much hope, is now in command to a conclusion. A number of difficult points have been satisfactorily settled, but a hitch now seems to have occurred over the fact that the Soviets are apparently insisting that all trading must be between the Soviet government on the one hand and the Roumanian government on the other—thus practically forcing Roumanian recognition of Soviet Russia.

SMALL NAMED IN SUITS TO ACCOUNT FOR STATE MONEY

SPRINGFIELD, Ill.—By The Associated Press.—Four "civil suits" calling upon Governor Len Small, Vernon Curtis, Lieutenant Governor Sterling, and others, to account for $2,000,000 state interest money alleged to have been withheld, were referred to a master in chancery by Circuit Judge Frank W. Burton Monday morning.

The final order referring the civil suits to a master in chancery was held when counsel for Governor Small asked that the preliminary hearing on accountability be heard by Circuit Judge Frank W. Burton himself.

The master of chancery, it was pointed out, is Charles G. Brizgle, chairman of the Sangamon county republican central committee, which is controlled by the Dick Sullivan or anti-Small faction of the party.

HOUSE OF COMMONS NOMINATIONS ARE NOW BEING MADE

LONDON.—Nominations for candidates for the 615 seats in the house of commons were being made Monday preparatory to the election on December 6. It was estimated beforehand that a record number would be named, with the conservatives in the majority, the liberals a good second and the laborites not far behind.

Three-cornered contests, which every individual candidate wishes to avoid, were expected to be rather numerous. Unusually placed the number at more than 220, although it was supposed there might be several withdrawals at the last moment.

BANDITS KIDNAP POLICEMAN, FORCE HIM TO DRIVE CAR

Overpower Him and Make Escape With Cop at the Wheel

JOPLIN, Mo.—With a captured policeman at the wheel of their motor car, four bandits who participated in the hold-up of the Bank of Asbury, at Asbury, Mo., Monday, drove to freedom.

The kidnaped officer was Clarence Allison, local motorcycle patrolman, who engaged the men single-handed in a field near Crestline, Kansas, only to be overpowered and made an instrument in their escape.

Chased Into Field

Several hours after the robbery Allison came on the quartet on a road near Crestline and opened fire. The bandits, seeing an automobile approaching ahead, feared they were being hemmed in and abandoned their own car, taking to a field. Allison, also driving an automobile, headed in to the field but his car soon became mired.

He continued the pursuit afoot and seeing the bandits dash into a ravine, scouted through a wooded section to cut them off.

The officers lay in wait and presently three of the bandits came abreast of his hiding place. Allison jumped out and without resistance the men surrendered.

He had marched the prisoners only a few yards when he felt a gun pressed against his back and heard a command "Drop that gun."

Threaten Death

Allison was forced to take the wheel while one of the bandits sat beside him with a revolver drawn. The car was driven through Galea and Baxter Springs, Kan., and Commerce, Oklahoma, and under cover of darkness the men released Allison.

IN JAIL FOR NEGLECTING CHILD
A man and wife at Kitchener, Ontario, Canada, were recently found guilty of neglecting their six-month-old daughter, in order to go fishing. The child was found in a critical condition by neighbors, and when the case was brought to court the judge sentenced the couple to one day each in jail, the child having died from neglect during their outing.

SWEDEN SUFFERS BIG GRAIN LOSSES FROM HEAVY RAINS

Farmers Have Great Difficulty Harvesting Crops this Season

MALMO, Sweden.—By the Associated Press.—Swedish Maud Mullers make hay in blickers and sou'westers. American tourists traveling in Sweden, and they are here in especially large numbers this year because of the Gothenburg exposition, never cease to marvel at the difficulties in which the men and women of Sweden gather their harvest.

Spring is late in Sweden. The summers are short, but the days are so long that grain crops ripen almost to the Arctic circle. However, August and early September, when the grain and hay crops are cut, are generally rainy. This has been an unusually wet season and farmers have had great difficulty in saving their crops.

Farmers work in the fields rain or shine. It isn't uncommon to see men and women in the driving rain forking hay and stacking rye or oats sheaves so they will withstand the effects of the moisture.

Grain fields and hay fields throughout most of the farming sections of Sweden are provided with hay and grain racks, which have the appearance of hurdles used in a steppel-chase. The hay and grain are hung on these racks to dry, as it is impossible in this climate to keep the grain and hay from rotting or heating if it is allowed to lie on the wet ground.

On some of the larger farms the hay and grain racks are built as high as 30 feet, and frequently it is necessary for the crop to hang a fortnight before it is thoroughly dried out.

Extremely heavy rains late in August this year crushed down much of the grain crop with the result that there will be great loss and the grain production is expected to be far below that of last year.

RISK CASE HEARD

MADISON, Wis.—A hearing was in progress here Monday before W. Stanley Smith commissioner of insurance, on a contest of insurance forms of the Continental Casualty Insurance company. The hearing will be the basis for a test case of forms required by state laws for forms of head light, health, life, and limb, and non-cancelable income insurance. If the insurance commissioner declines to approve the forms submitted by the applicant company, court action will be brought to test the order.

RECAPTURED "CON" SAYS $30,000 WAS PRICE OF ESCAPE

Declares Sextette Bribed Guards for Chance to Make Getaway

HONOLULU.—By The Associated Press.—Louis Edwards who admits he is one of six persons who escaped from the Eastern Pennsylvania penitentiary at Philadelphia, July 14, according to police, was arrested here Monday on information obtained by authorities from a circular.

Edwards is described by officers as an "international crook." He came to Honolulu recently with the San Francisco chamber of commerce, which visited Hawaii on a trade excursion.

According to his story, the six prisoners paid $30,000 to guards at the penitentiary and were permitted to escape in an ash-wagon. He is said to have been serving a sentence of twelve years.

When he was arrested Edwards was engaged in preparing a booth at a carnival. He is said to have been the "side of the party" during the season of the trade excursionists. Police ascertained there had been no news reported during the trip.

REDUCTIONS SEEN IN FUND REQUESTS OF STATE SCHOOLS

MADISON, Wis.—Reductions in requests of state educational institutions for emergency funds were indicated Monday following a request by the state emergency board of J. B. Mark, state engineer, to make careful inquiry into necessary funds for building and repair work at state institutions.

The requests filed with the emergency board recently included several hundred dollars for repairs and building. It was indicated Monday that these will be cut down as far as possible.

Edwards' report probably will be ready for the board within a day or two, and another session of the emergency body will be held some time this week. Emergency requests to the board total about $550,000.

BOY EMPEROR OF CHINA SUE FOR HOUSEHOLD BILLS

PEKIN.—Correspondence of The Associated Press.—The Imperial household recently was sued in the civil court by a local banking house because of failure to meet certain financial obligations. A representative of the boy emperor appeared and pleaded extenuating circumstances, but the court ruled that the debt must be paid.

Thereupon the chancellor of the Imperial exchequer wrote to the minister of justice explaining that the household would settle gladly, as soon as the ministry of finance of the Peking government paid the arrears on the Imperial allowance.

The matter was referred back to the court for further consideration.

BAN OYSTER BRAND AS TYPHOID FEVER SPREADING AGENCY

CHICAGO, Ill.—Raw oysters of a certain brand are barred from sale in more than two score cities as a result of an order of local and state health authorities who consider the oysters responsible for an epidemic of typhoid fever in the district.

Investigation of twenty-six cases of typhoid in Evanston, made by Dr. C. T. Roome, health commissioner, developed that each one of the patients had eaten oysters of the same brand, before showing symptoms of the fever. Tests of milk and water supplied found them free of contamination.

CONDUCTOR HAS HIS FOOT SEVERED

William O'Brien, aged 63, veteran conductor on the Chicago & Northwestern road, had his foot severed above the instep when he fell along side his train when it was starting out from West Allis, a suburb of Milwaukee.

O'Brien, who formerly ran a train into La Crosse, is a conductor on the Madison division. Just as the train was pulling out of the West Allis station, the veteran conductor fell to the platform after being pushed by a woman, who was attempting to board the moving train. His foot was caught on the track by the rear truck of the coach.

The very youthful Maharaja of CochoBehar, only seven, is en route to his native domain (wherever that may be) with his mother and sister. He studied a while in England. The child is rich, the caption accompanying the photo explains, over 600,000 honest-to-goodness grownups, and will have an income of $150,000 a month. His pa died recently in London. We're trying now to locate his domain on the map.

ETTRICK MAN IS HELD FOR AUTO SMASH IN WINONA

WINONA, Minn.—Odell Helstad, 31 years old, of Ettrick, Wis., was at liberty today on $150 bail pending his appearance in municipal court Wednesday to answer a charge of driving an automobile while intoxicated, following an accident on the Mississippi river bridge when an automobile alleged to have been driven by Helstad collided with a car driven by Mrs. Ray Trowbridge of Trempealeau.

No one was injured and slight damage was done to the Trowbridge car, according to the police report. Helstad's automobile sustained a bent axle, damaged radiator, bent fender, and broken headlight. It is being held by police.

DEFT PICKPOCKETS TAUGHT TRADE BY MASTERS IN ART

Schools for Systematic Training of Minor Criminals Reported in Poland and Hungary

VIENNA.—By The Associated Press.—The mental and physical make-up of that world-wide class of minor criminals, the pickpocket, has been set forth with convincing accuracy by the one man in Europe doubtless best qualified to do so, Dr. E. Lewisch, for 15 years chief of the pickpocket section of the Vienna police.

The chief was addressing the delegates to the international police congress. The pickpocket, he said, was essentially a nomad, an rover. He finds his prey on the street, in places of amusement, when an ancient draws people together, in the cloakroom of a theater, in short, wherever there is a crowd. He may operate in Vienna today, and tomorrow be loitering about a city a hundred miles away. He must be ready to keep moving and give up any idea of a settled home. In Europe he must be a good linguist.

It is reasonably certain, Dr. Lewisch said, that these men are systematically trained in their work, and he believed the best schools are in Poland and Hungary. Beside strength and manual dexterity the pickpocket must have presence of mind, knowledge of men, and a ready adaptability to cope with unexpected and dangerous situations. Unbounded effrontery, self-confidence, and a ready eloquence are important assets, and often help him to calm the agitation of his victim, avert suspicion, and even win the confidence and gratitude of the man he is robbing.

The successful pickpocket needs well-informed hands, strong and with long, narrow fingers. He must be able to seize a heavy purse with two fingers as with a pair of pincers, and extract it from a pocket by a quick and sure movement, or twist a watch ring out of its bearings with as easy a grace as if picking a flower from its stem.

In court the pickpocket denied passionately every charge brought against him. He admits absolutely nothing.

He has a ready excuse to account for his presence in the city where he was caught. The stolen watch he will swear he picked up from the ground, and as an honest finder he was about to carry it to the police station. Before the judge he will simulate deafness or ignorance of the language of the court. He will fight for time by asking questions on his own account, or pretend sickness or even insanity. It takes time to build a good case against a pickpocket, Dr. Lewisch declared. He must be held while his record, often in other countries, is being looked up. He must be fingerprinted and photographed, and these evidences distributed to the police authorities all over Europe. And when he is found guilty, Dr. Lewisch concluded, give him a long sentence, preferably in the penitentiary.

AUTO DRIVER HELD ON A MANSLAUGHTER CHARGE; GIRL KILLED

FOND DU LAC, Wis.—Herman Schuland, Lomira, was arrested Monday charged with manslaughter, in connection with the death of Miss Leona Wagner, a telephone operator, Fond du Lac, who was struck by an automobile on Highway 15, Saturday night, and died instantly. County officials charge Schuland with being the driver of the car. A coroner's inquest has been ordered in the case. The jury also will inquire into the circumstances surrounding the death of Lansing White, killed when his car was struck by a train here Saturday night.

SCHOOL TEACHER KILLED MILWAUKEE, Wis.—Miss Madge McCormick, 33, West Bend, a school teacher in the Town of Milwaukee, was instantly killed Monday when struck at a grade crossing by a Milwaukee Northern Electric car, Miss McCormick was walking to school at the time of the accident. Six persons were seriously injured and seven others were slightly injured in automobile accidents in and near Milwaukee Sunday.

Have Every Man on U. S. and Canadian Roads; Assets Over 11 Million

CHICAGO, Ill.—Fifty years of development will be climaxed by the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen on Sunday with celebrations in the principal cities of the country. It is announced here.

Started half a century ago by eleven employees of the Erie railroad the brotherhood has grown until now, according to President D. B. Robertson, every fireman and engineman in the service of railroads in the United States and Canada, is a member. The roll-call totals 118,000.

Assets of the brotherhood are set at $11,438,037, while an insurance business conducted for members is said to have $150,000,000 of policies in effect.

LIGHTS FOOL FLOWERS INTO AWAKENING AND RETIRING
SAN FRANCISCO.—Flowers susceptible to sunlight will display the same reactions under powerful electric lights, reports Arthur Pillsbury, official photographer at Yosemite National Park in California. He has been making motion pictures of flowers awakening and retiring. He explained, however, that some flowers, like the Evening Snow, would awaken by the artificial sun but refuse to go to bed by it. The habits of most of the folding and unfolding blossoms, he said, are well established; that one could tell time by them because they arouse themselves at a certain hour and fold their coverings about them with equal regularity.

TO TEST POWER OF ANAESTHETIC TO BRING OUT TRUTH

NEW ORLEANS, La.—Dr. R. L. House of Ferris, Texas, credited with having discovered the persons under the influence of scopolamine, will tell the truth when questioned, expected Tuesday to give a demonstration at the parish prison here before the New Orleans Medical Society, police officials and newspapermen with volunteer prisoners as the subjects.

The "truth serum" is nothing more than the drug administered by obstetricians to produce "twilight sleep." Dr. House said that in Texas several years ago he asked the husband of a patient under the influence of the drug to get him a certain article. The husband returned and reported that he could not find it, whereupon the patient without opening her eyes or showing any signs of consciousness told him where to look for it. With the incident in mind, Dr. House thereafter questioned the patients while under the influence of the drug and in 1921 after numerous experiments, made public his discovery.

Lyle Henry Accused of Transporting and Selling Liquor that Boy Drank

TOMAH, Wis.—Lyle Henry of this city was bound over for trial at a preliminary examination held in Justice Warriner's court on the charge of having sold and transported moonshine liquor which caused the death of Frank Kuehl, Jr., on November 3. The evidence taken by District Attorney Gleiss was the same as that given at the dead body and given by Frank Kuehl, Sr., and Henry Kuehl. Bonds for $1,000 were fixed and were furnished by the defendant, Lyle Henry. Great interest is evidenced throughout Monroe county in the case and the trial of Henry.
